- (a) are formulated with one or more high explosives which in their pure form have a vapour pressure less than 10^{-4} Pa at a temperature of 25°C;
- (b) are formulated with a binder material; and
- (c) are, as a mixture, malleable or flexible at normal room temperature.

2. The following explosives, even though meeting the description of explosives in paragraph 1 of this Part, shall not be considered to be explosives as long as they continue to be held or used for the purposes specified below or remain incorporated as there specified namely those explosives that—

- (a) are manufactured, or held, in limited quantities solely for use in duly authorised research, development or testing of new or modified explosives;
- (b) are manufactured, or held, in limited quantities solely for use in duly authorised training in explosives detection and/or development or testing of explosives detection equipment;
- (c) are manufactured, or held, in limited quantities solely for duly authorised forensic science purposes; or

A detection agent is any one of those substances set out in the following Table. Detection agents described in this Table are intended to be used to enhance the detectability of explosives by vapour detection means. In each case, the introduction of a detection agent into an explosive shall be done in such a manner as to achieve homogeneous distribution in the finished product. The minimum concentration of a detection agent in the finished product at the time of manufacture shall be as shown in the said Table.

Name of detection agent	Molecular formula	Molecular weight	Minimum concentration
Ethylene glycol dinitrate (EGDN)	$C_2H_4(NO_3)_2$	152	0.2% by mass
2,3-Dimethyl-2,3-dinitrobutane (DMNB)	$C_6H_{12}(NO_2)_2$	176	0.1% by mass
para-Mononitrotoluene(p-MNT)	$C_7H_7NO_2$	137	0.5% by mass
ortho-Mononitrotoluene(o-MNT)	$C_7H_7NO_2$	137	0.5% by mass
