They shall facilitate the achievement of the purposes of the Organisation.

5.2 In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the preceding paragraph, each Member State shall take all steps to secure the enactment of such legislation as is necessary to give effect to this Treaty and decisions taken thereunder.

5.3 Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing—

- (a) a full Member State which is independent undertakes to enact the legislation necessary to—
 - (i) delegate to the Organisation the said Member State's authority to legislate in the areas of competence of the Organisation outlined in Article 14; or
 - (ii) receive Acts of the Organisation made by the OECS Authority, and Regulations and Orders made by the Council of Ministers, from the Organisation in the areas of competence of the Organisation outlined in Article 14, with the intention that the Acts, Regulations and Orders have direct effect in the laws of the Member State;

- (b) a Member State which is not an independent State undertakes to enact legislation to provide for the reception into its law of the legislation made under this Article. The legislation—
 - (i) shall enable reception of Acts of the Organisation made by the OECS Authority, and Regulations and Orders made by the Council of Ministers, from the Organisation without the need for enactment by the Member State's Legislature either generally or on a case by case basis;
 - (ii) may make the reception of the Acts, Regulations and Orders subject to the discretion of a competent authority in the Member State.

5.4 Nothing in this Treaty requires a Member State to undertake amendments to its Constitution, and its obligations as to implementation are circumscribed accordingly.

5.5 Nothing in this Treaty requires a Member State to act prejudicially to the requirements of public participation and discussion which flow from good governance in a democratic society.

ARTICLE 6: INSTITUTIONS OF THE ORGANISATION

6.1 There are hereby recognised as Institutions of the Organisation—

- (a) the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court;

- (b) the Eastern Caribbean Central Bank; and
- (c) the Eastern Caribbean Civil Aviation Authority;

provided that this Article does not impair any powers or jurisdiction of any of those Institutions.

6.2 The OECS Authority may by unanimous decision add to the list of Institutions in Article 6.1 any inter-Governmental entity whose functions relate at least to all the full Member States.

ARTICLE 7: ORGANS OF THE ORGANISATION

7.1 There are hereby established the following principal Organs through which the Organisation shall accomplish the functions entrusted to it under this Treaty—

- (a) the Authority of Heads of Government of the Member States;
- (b) the Council of Ministers;
- (c) the OECS Assembly;
- (d) the Economic Affairs Council; and
- (e) the OECS Commission.

7.2 The Organs of the Organisation shall perform the functions and act within the limits of the powers conferred upon them by or under this Treaty and by the Dispute Settlement Annex and the Economic Union Protocol. They may with the approval of the OECS Authority establish such subsidiary Organs as they deem necessary for the performance of their functions.

ARTICLE 8: COMPOSITION AND FUNCTIONS OF THE OECS AUTHORITY

8.1 The OECS Authority shall be composed of the Member States represented by their Heads of Government.

8.2 Any member of the OECS Authority may, as appropriate, designate a Minister to represent such member at any meeting of the OECS Authority.

8.3 Only Member States possessing the necessary competence in respect of matters under consideration from time to time shall take part in the deliberations of the OECS Authority.

8.4 The OECS Authority shall be the supreme policy-making Organ of the Organisation. It shall be responsible for, and have the general direction and control of the performance of the functions of, the Organisation for the progressive development of the Organisation and the achievement of its purposes.

8.5 The OECS Authority shall have power to make decisions on all matters within its competence. All such decisions other than decisions on procedural matters shall require the affirmative vote of all full Member States present and voting at the meeting of the OECS Authority at which such decisions were taken, provided that such decisions shall have no force and effect until the Heads of Government of those full Member States, if any, which were not present at that meeting, have within the consideration periods expressed either support for, or abstention in relation to, the decision. The absence of a response from any such Head of Government by the end of the relevant consideration period shall have thereafter the same effect as an abstention by that Member State from voting would have had if the Head of Government had been present at the meeting of the OECS Authority. The consideration period for a Head of Government is for this purpose the period terminating thirty days after that Head of Government has received from the OECS Commission advice of the decision in question.

8.6 Decisions on procedural matters shall be made by a majority of all full Member States present and voting at the meeting of the OECS Authority at which such decisions were taken.

8.7 For the purposes of this Treaty, the decision that a matter is a procedural matter is not a decision on procedural matters, and in the absence of a decision that the matter is procedural, the matter is deemed not to be procedural.

8.8 Decisions by the OECS Authority under the preceding paragraphs shall be binding on all Member States and on all Organs of the Organisation and effect shall be given to any such decisions provided that it is within the sovereign competence of Member States to implement them.

8.9 Reference in this Treaty to a unanimous decision of the OECS Authority means a reference to a decision taken in compliance with the preceding paragraphs, other than a decision on procedural matters, provided that—

- (a) where the OECS Authority is taking a decision in relation to the Economic Union Protocol, the reference to full Member States in the preceding paragraph shall refer only to those full Member States which are parties to the Economic Union Protocol under Article 24; and
- (b) a Member State which is in arrears in the payment of its financial contributions to the Organisation shall be deemed to be abstaining, and shall not be considered as present and voting, in all votes on matters falling for the OECS Authority's decision as long as the amount of that Member State's arrears equals or exceeds the amount of the contributions due from it for the preceding full year, save that a majority of the other Member States of the OECS Authority may permit the Member State in arrears to vote.

8.10 The OECS Authority may enact Acts of the Organisation within the sphere of the legislative competence of the Organisation under Article 14 after referring to the OECS Assembly for its report any proposal to do so. The report of the OECS Assembly is not binding on the OECS Authority.

8.11 The OECS Authority may make such recommendations and give such directives as it deems necessary for the achievement of the purposes of the Organisation and for ensuring the smooth functioning of the Organs of the Organisation. In particular, the OECS Authority may give directives to and reverse any decision of another Organ or any officer of the Organisation, without prejudice to rights which may have accrued prior to giving such directives or reversing such decision.

8.12 The OECS Authority may establish, and designate as such, Organs of the Organisation, in addition to those specified in Article 7.1 of this Treaty, as it deems necessary for the achievement of the purposes of the Organisation.

8.13 The OECS Authority shall be the final authority for the conclusion of treaties or other international agreements on behalf of the Organisation and for entering into relationships between the Organisation and other international organizations and third countries.

8.14 Subject to the relevant provisions of this Treaty, the OECS Authority shall take decisions for the purpose of establishing the financial arrangements necessary for meeting the expenses of the Organisation and shall be the final authority on questions arising in relation to the financial affairs of the Organisation.

8.15 The OECS Authority shall meet at least twice a year. It shall determine its own procedure including that for convening meetings, for the conduct of business thereat and at other times, and for the annual rotation of the office of the Chairman among its members in accordance with the principle of alphabetical order of the Member States except where otherwise agreed.

8.16 The OECS Authority shall in addition meet in extraordinary session whenever it deems necessary in accordance with the rules laid down in its rules of procedure.

ARTICLE 9: COMPOSITION AND FUNCTIONS OF THE COUNCIL OF MINISTERS

9.1 The Council of Ministers shall comprise Member States, acting through such Ministers of Government named by their Heads of Government from time to time as such Heads of Government may designate, save always that a Member State which appoints more than one Minister of Government shall remain entitled only to one vote in the Council of Ministers.

9.2 The Council of Ministers shall be responsible to the OECS Authority. It shall take appropriate action on any matters referred to it by the OECS Authority and shall have the power to make recommendations to the OECS Authority.

9.3 The Council of Ministers shall have responsibility for—

- (a) considering and reporting to the OECS Authority on recommendations of the OECS Commission for the making of Acts of the Organisation; and
- (b) considering and enacting into Organisation law regulations and other implementing instruments to give effect to the Acts of the Organisation enacted by the OECS Authority.

9.4 In discharging its functions under Article 9.3(b), the Council of Ministers shall follow any directions of the OECS Authority relating to consultation with the OECS Assembly, and may in the absence of such directions opt to undertake such consultation.

9.5 Regulations made by the Council of Ministers shall have the same binding force as the Acts of the Organisation which authorise them, provided that the question whether Regulations so made are so authorised shall be subject to judicial review.

9.6 The Council of Ministers shall have power to make decisions on all matters within its competence under this Article. All such decisions other than decisions on procedural matters shall require the affirmative vote of all full Member States present and voting at the meeting of the Council of Ministers at which such decisions were taken, provided that such decisions shall have no force and effect until the Ministers of those full Member States, if any, which were not represented at that meeting, have within the consideration periods expressed either support for, or abstention in relation to, the decision. The absence of a response from any such Minister by the end of the relevant consideration period shall have thereafter the same effect as an abstention by that Member State from voting would have had if that Member State had been represented at the meeting of the Council of Ministers. The consideration period for a Minister is for this purpose the period terminating thirty days after that Minister has received from the OECS Commission advice of the decision in question.

9.7 Decisions on procedural matters shall be made by a majority of all full Member States present and voting at the meeting of the Council of Ministers at which such decisions were taken.

9.8 Decisions by the Council of Ministers under the preceding paragraphs shall be binding on all Member States and on all Organs of the Organisation other than the OECS Authority, and effect shall be given to any such decisions provided that it is within the sovereign competence of Member States to implement them.

9.9 Reference in this Treaty to a unanimous decision of the Council of Ministers means a reference to a decision taken in compliance with the preceding paragraphs, other than a decision on procedural matters, provided that a Member State which is in arrears in the payment of its financial contributions to the Organisation shall be deemed to be abstaining, and shall not be considered as present and voting, in all votes on matters falling for the Council of Ministers' decision as long as the amount of that Member State's arrears equals or exceeds the amount of the contributions due from it for the preceding full year, save to the extent that a majority of the other Member States in the OECS Authority may permit the Member State in arrears to vote.

9.10 Subject to any directives that the OECS Authority may give and to this Treaty, the Council shall determine its own procedure, including—

- (a) the frequency of meetings;
- (b) the procedure for the conduct of business; and
- (c) the annual rotation of the office of Chairman among its members in accordance with the principle of alphabetical order of the Member States except where otherwise agreed.

ARTICLE 10: COMPOSITION AND FUNCTIONS OF THE OECS ASSEMBLY

10.1 The OECS Assembly shall comprise Members who are representatives, as provided in this Article, of the members of the Parliament and of the members of the Legislatures of the Member States.

10.2 Each Parliament of an independent State which is a full Member State shall be entitled to elect five of its members to the OECS Assembly. Each Legislature of any other Member State shall be entitled to elect three of its members to the OECS Assembly.

10.3 For the purposes of Article 10.2—

- (a) the members of Parliament shall comprise elected government members chosen by the elected government members and elected opposition members chosen by the elected opposition members. The respective numbers of government members and opposition members shall reflect as nearly as possible the proportionate representation of government and opposition members in the selecting Parliament, provided that at least one member is chosen by the elected opposition members; and
- (b) the members of the Legislature shall include at least two elected members chosen by the elected government members and shall include one elected member chosen by the elected opposition members.

Provided that the Head of Government and the Leader of the Opposition shall be one of the government members and opposition members respectively.

Provided further that where there are no elected opposition members of Parliament or of the Legislature, the Head of State of the respective Member State shall designate one person to represent the opposition parties.

10.4 Where under Article 10.3—

- (a) the proportion calculation leaves the distribution of seats between government and opposition members uncertain; or
- (b) disagreement among government members or among opposition members gives rise to uncertainty of selection, the uncertainty shall be resolved by the relevant Parliament or Legislature by its ordinary procedures.

10.5 The tenure of membership of the OECS Assembly shall be two years from the date of election under Article 10.2 or until the next general election for, the Parliament or Legislature, whichever period is shorter.

10.6 The OECS Assembly shall when it is first convened elect from among eligible citizens a Speaker of the OECS Assembly to preside over its deliberations, and shall thereafter so elect whenever it is convened for the first time after the term of office of Speaker of the OECS Assembly has expired under Article 10.8. A former Speaker of the OECS Assembly who remains an eligible citizen is eligible for re-election.

10.7 The OECS Assembly shall whenever it elects a Speaker of the OECS Assembly under Article 10.6 elect also from among eligible citizens a Deputy Speaker of the OECS Assembly to preside over its deliberations in the absence of the Speaker of the OECS Assembly. A former Deputy Speaker of the OECS Assembly who remains an eligible citizen is eligible for re-election.

10.8 The term of office of the Speaker of the OECS Assembly shall run from the date of election to that office under Article 10.6 until the day preceding the date for which the OECS Assembly is convened for the first time after the expiry of two years from such date of election. The term of office of the Deputy Speaker of the OECS Assembly shall run from the date of election to that office under Article 10.7 until the day preceding the date for which the OECS Assembly is convened for the first time after the expiry of two years from such date of election.

10.9 Where, before the expiry of the term of office under Article 10.8, a vacancy in the office of Speaker of the OECS Assembly or in the office of Deputy Speaker of the OECS Assembly occurs on account of death, incapacity, resignation, or termination for cause pursuant to rules and regulations under Article 10.10, the OECS Assembly shall, when it is next convened, elect an eligible citizen to serve for any unexpired period of the term of office.

10.10 The terms and conditions of service of the Speaker of the OECS Assembly and of the Deputy Speaker of the OECS Assembly and the expense allowances to be paid to Members of the OECS Assembly shall be governed by such rules and regulations as are approved by the OECS Authority, which rules and regulations may allocate the relevant cost among the Member States of the Organisation.

10.11 An eligible citizen for the purpose of this Article is a citizen or a belonger of a Member State who is not disqualified from election to Parliament or the Legislature, as the case may be, in that Member State and who is not a member of the Parliament or Legislature of any Member State.

10.12 The Director-General shall appoint under Article 13.4 a Clerk to the OECS Assembly and such other members of staff as may, in the opinion of the Director-General, be required to assist the Speaker of the OECS Assembly, the Deputy Speaker of the OECS Assembly and the Clerk to the OECS Assembly in relation to the functioning of the OECS Assembly.

10.13 The OECS Assembly shall, within such time period as the OECS Authority may prescribe, consider and report—

- (a) to the OECS Authority—
 - (i) on any proposal to enact an Act of the Organization under Article 8.10; and
 - (ii) on any other matter referred to the OECS Assembly by the OECS

Authority; and

- (b) to the Council of Ministers in the case of any proposal to make Regulations which has been referred to the OECS Assembly under Article 9.4.

10.14 The OECS Authority shall give directions relating to the convening of the OECS Assembly and such other aspects of the OECS Assembly's procedure as the OECS Authority considers fit. Subject to such directions, the OECS Assembly may determine its own procedure.

ARTICLE 11: COMPOSITION AND FUNCTIONS OF THE ECONOMIC AFFAIRS COUNCIL

11.1 The Economic Affairs Council shall comprise Member States, acting through such Ministers of Government named by their Heads of Government from time to time as such Heads of Government may designate, save always that a Member State which appoints more than one Minister of Government shall remain entitled only to one vote in the Economic Affairs Council.

11.2 Only Member States possessing the necessary competence in respect of matters under consideration from time to time shall take part in the deliberations of the Council.

11.3 The Council shall have as its functions those functions entrusted to it under the Economic Union Protocol.

11.4 The provisions of the Economic Union Protocol, to the extent that they are not incompatible with the provisions of this Treaty, shall be deemed to be incorporated in and to form an integral part of this Treaty.

11.5 Decisions of the Council shall have the same binding force as the provisions which authorise them under this Treaty and the Economic Union Protocol, provided that the question whether decisions so made are so authorised shall be subject to judicial review.

ARTICLE 12: THE OECS COMMISSION

12.1 The OECS Commission shall be the principal Organ responsible for the general administration of the Organisation.

13.5 The Director-General shall have the responsibility to ensure that all persons found suitable for employment under Article 13.4 are duly cleared in respect of security before engagement.

13.6 In the performance of their duties the Director-General and other members of the staff of the OECS Commission shall neither seek nor accept instructions from any Government or from any other authority external to the Organisation. They shall refrain from any action which might reflect on their position as international officials responsible only to the Organisation.

13.7 Each Member State undertakes to respect the exclusively international character of the responsibilities of the Director-General and other members of the staff of the OECS Commission and not to seek to influence them in the discharge of their responsibilities.

13.8 The holder of the office of Director-General of the Organisation under the Treaty of Basseterre 1981 shall succeed to the office of Director-General under this Treaty and shall occupy that office for the duration of any unexpired term that would have obtained under the Treaty of Basseterre 1981.

13.9 The holder of any office or employment in the OECS Secretariat may elect to hold an equivalent office of employment in the OECS Commission on terms as if the date of assumption of the office or employment was the date of such assumption of office or employment in the OECS Secretariat.

provided that a Member State need not take steps to repeal its laws in relation to such reserving their right to legislate in relation to those matters within aspects of such policy not pre-empted by or under the authority of any Act of the Organisation.

14.3 In the areas of legislative competence of the Organisation which do not fall under Article 14.1, the Organisation shall enact Acts of the Organisation only if and in so far as the objectives of the proposed action cannot, in the opinion of the OECS Authority, be sufficiently achieved by the Member States and can therefore, by reason of the scale or effects of the proposed action, be better achieved by enacting an Act of the Organisation.

14.4 At the time of ratifying or acceding to this Treaty—

- (a) a full Member State which is not an independent State; and that is a party to the Treaty of Basseterre 1981, may make reservations in respect of this Article.
- (b) an Associate Member State;

15.2 Where such objection, referred to in the preceding paragraph, is made by an international organisation or conference by virtue of its constitution or rules of procedure or for any other reason and where the Member States are members of such organisation or conference, the Director-General shall take all appropriate steps, consistent with the constitution or rules of procedure of such organisation or conference, as to ensure the optimum realisation of the benefits of their membership of such organisation or conference.

15.3 The Director-General shall have the authority and responsibility for transmitting directives of the OECS Authority on joint foreign policy matters to heads of overseas diplomatic and other missions established by the Organisation. The Director-General shall take precedence in matters of protocol over the heads of such missions.

15.4 Heads of diplomatic or other missions of the Organisation shall be appointed in accordance with the national law of each Member State on the recommendation of the OECS Authority. Heads of diplomatic or other missions of the Organisation may at any time resign their offices by written notice to the Director-General, who shall promptly transmit any such notice to the Member States.

15.5 Subject to the preceding paragraph, the staff of such missions shall be appointed by the Director-General. In appointing such staff the Director-General shall have due regard to the provisions of Articles 13.4 to 13.5 of this Treaty. ARTICLE 17: THE BUDGET OF THE ORGANISATION

17.1 There shall be established a budget of the Organisation.

17.2 All expenses of the Organisation shall be approved in respect of each financial year by the OECS Authority and shall be chargeable to the budget.

17.3 Revenues of the budget shall be derived from annual contributions by the Member States and from such other sources as may be determined by the OECS Authority.

17.4 The budget shall be in balance as to revenues and expenditures.

17.5 A draft budget for each financial year shall be prepared by the Director-General for the approval of the OECS Authority and transmitted to the OECS Authority through the OECS Commission.

17.6 A transitional budget of the Organisation for the first twelve months after this Treaty comes into force shall apply pending—

- (a) the adoption by the OECS Authority of the first budget of the Organisation

- under this Treaty and pursuant to the preceding paragraphs; or
- (b) the exercise by the OECS Authority of its powers relating to the financial arrangements of the Organisation under Article 23, whichever first occurs.

17.7 The transitional budget of the Organisation shall equal such part of the amount budgeted for the last completed financial year under the Treaty of Basseterre 1981 as was equal to the approved contribution of the Member States of this Treaty to that budget approved for that year under the Treaty of Basseterre 1981, and the heads of approved expenditure and the allocation of expenditure among those heads shall parallel mutatis mutandis those approved for that year under the Treaty of Basseterre 1981.

17.8 There shall be special budgets to meet extraordinary expenditures of the Organisation.

17.9 Each Member State shall pay regularly and, subject to Article 23, in advance its annual contribution to the budget of the Organisation and pay promptly its contribution to any special budget under the preceding paragraph.

ARTICLE 18: PROCEDURE FOR THE SETTLEMENT OF DISPUTES

18.1 Any dispute that may arise regarding the interpretation and application of this Treaty shall, where parties to the dispute belong to the category of eligible parties under Article 18.5, upon the request of any of them, be amicably resolved by consultation.

18.2 If the dispute is not resolved within a waiting period of three months of the date on which the request referred to in the preceding paragraph has been made, any eligible party to the dispute may submit it to the procedures provided for in the Dispute Settlement Annex by submitting a request to that effect to the Director-General and informing the other party or parties to the dispute of the request. Where the Organisation is a party to the dispute, the functions of the Director-General under this Article shall be exercised by the Eastern Caribbean Court of Appeal through the Chief Registrar.

18.3 Any eligible party to a dispute may before the expiration of the waiting period of three months under the preceding paragraphs apply to the Eastern Caribbean Court of Appeal through the Chief Registrar for a waiver of that waiting period, and the Court may grant the application where it considers that the urgency of the matter requires such a waiver.

18.4 The Economic Union Protocol may provide for exemption from or shortening of the waiting period of three months under Article 18.2.

18.5 The eligible parties for the purpose of Article 18.1 comprise the full Member States, the Associate Member States and the Organisation.

18.6 The provisions of this Article and the Dispute Settlement Annex do not apply to proceedings commenced before the coming into force of this Treaty. Such proceedings shall be governed solely by the provisions of the Treaty of Basseterre 1981, which shall continue to apply in full force until such proceedings are completed or discontinued by the complainant Member State under that Treaty.

18.7 The budget of the Organisation shall include provision for any resources necessary to support the discharge by the Eastern Caribbean Court of Appeal of its functions under this Treaty. To the extent that such provision is insufficient to meet the requirements of the discharge of those functions, the Eastern Caribbean Court of Appeal may require the parties to any dispute before it to advance payment against the Court's estimated costs of the proceedings and may in its orders and judgments in the case allocate to the parties, in such shares as it considers just, the liability for those costs.

19.3 To the extent that such agreements in Article 19.2 are not compatible with this Treaty, the Member State or States concerned shall take all appropriate steps to eliminate the incompatibilities established. Member States shall, where necessary, assist each other to this end and shall, where appropriate, adopt a common negotiating position.

Similarly the privileges and immunities granted to the OECS Commission at the headquarters of the Organisation shall be the same as granted to diplomatic missions at the headquarters of the Organisation under the said Convention. Other privileges and immunities to be recognised and granted by the Member States in connection with the Organisation shall be determined by the OECS Authority.

Any of the periods within which appointments must be made may be extended by agreement between the parties to the dispute; and
- (e) any vacancy shall be filled in the manner prescribed for the initial appointment.

4.8 The Conciliation Commission shall decide its own procedure. 5.2 Each Member State is entitled to nominate two persons to the list of panelists.

5.3 Other panelists may be added at the discretion of the Chief Justice.

5.4 A person may be listed as a panelist notwithstanding that the person is also at any time listed as a conciliator.

6. Where an eligible party to a dispute requests adjudication by the Eastern Caribbean Court of Appeal under paragraph 1(b) of this Annex, the application shall be made to the Chief Registrar.

6.1 The Court shall determine its own procedure, and to this end may make Rules of Court in the Treaty Jurisdiction of the Organisation of Eastern Caribbean States.

6.2 The Treaty Jurisdiction of the Organisation shall be additional to the other jurisdictions of the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court and not in substitution for any other such jurisdiction.

6.3 A decision of the Eastern Caribbean Court of Appeal in the Treaty Jurisdiction of the Organisation is binding on the parties to the case, and is, without prejudice to paragraphs 6.4 to 6.9, not subject to appeal.

6.4 The Court shall, in the exercise of the Treaty Jurisdiction of the Organisation, be competent to revise its judgment on an application made in that behalf.

6.5 An application for the revision of a judgment of the Court in the exercise of the Treaty Jurisdiction of the Organisation may be made only when it is based upon the discovery of some fact of such a nature as to be a decisive factor, which fact was, when the judgment was given, unknown to the Court and to the party claiming revision: provided always the ignorance of that fact was not due to negligence on the part of the applicant.

6.6 Proceedings for a revision shall be opened by a judgment of the Court expressly recording the existence of the new fact, recognising that it has such a character as to lay the case open to revision, and declaring the application admissible on this ground.

6.7 The Court may require previous compliance with the terms of the judgment before it admits proceedings for a revision.

6.8 The application for a revision shall be made within six months of the discovery of the new fact.

6.9 No application for a revision may be made after the lapse of five years from the date of the judgment.

7. The Eastern Caribbean Court of Appeal shall have as part of the Treaty Jurisdiction of the Organisation the jurisdiction to give an Advisory Opinion to the OECS Authority or any other Organ of the Organisation on any matter concerning the interpretation or application of this Treaty which that Organ may refer to it for advice. An Advisory Opinion shall not be binding on the Organ requesting the same or on any Member State.

8. The Eastern Caribbean Court of Appeal shall have as part of the Treaty Jurisdiction of the Organisation the jurisdiction to review or hear appeals from any internal body established to consider matters of dispute internal to any Organ of the Organisation.

9. The law to be applied to the settlement of disputes and in any jurisdiction of the Eastern Caribbean Court of Appeal under this Treaty is public international law, including the principles of public international law governing the application and interpretation of treaties.

10. An arbitral award or a judgment of the Eastern Caribbean Court of Appeal under this Annex may—

- (a) award monetary compensation to a complainant State;
- (b) order the party complained against to take measures to comply with that party's obligations under this Treaty;
- (c) declare the right of a complainant state to exercise any right of redress available under international law; and

4.2 For the purposes of this Article the term “import duties” means any tax or surtax of customs and any other charges of equivalent effect - whether fiscal, monetary or exchange - which are levied on imports, except duties notified under Article 7 and other charges which fall within that Article.

4.3 The provisions of this Article do not apply to fees and similar charges in respect of services rendered and nothing in paragraph 2 of this Article shall be construed to exclude from the application of paragraph 1 of this Article any tax or surtax of customs on any product neither the like of which, nor a competitive substitute for which, is produced in the importing Protocol Member State, or to extend such application to non-discriminatory internal charges on any such product.

4.4 For the purposes of paragraph 3 of this Article—

5.2 For the purposes of paragraph 1 of this Article the rules of origin under the Revised Treaty of Chaguaramas shall be applied mutatis mutandis as though under those rules the Economic Union were substituted for the Caribbean Community and the Economic Affairs Council were substituted for the Council for Trade and Economic Development.

5.3 Nothing in this Protocol shall prevent a Protocol Member State from accepting as eligible for Economic Union Area tariff treatment any imports consigned from another Protocol Member State, provided that the like imports consigned from any other Protocol Member State are accorded the same treatment.

ARTICLE 6: THE COMMON CUSTOMS TARIFF

6. The Common Customs Tariff will be set by or under the authority of an Act of the Organisation under Article 14.1(a) of this Treaty, provided that for any period when this tariff is not set the Common External Tariff under the Revised Treaty of Chaguaramas shall be the Common Customs Tariff. Protocol Member States may not impose higher tariffs than the Common Customs Tariff.

ARTICLE 7: REVENUE DUTIES AND INTERNAL TAXATION

7.1 Protocol Member States shall not—

- (a) apply directly or indirectly to imported goods any fiscal charges in excess of those applied directly or indirectly to like domestic goods, nor otherwise apply such charges so as to afford effective protection to like domestic goods; or
- (b) apply fiscal charges to imported goods of a kind which they do not produce, or which they do not produce in substantial quantities, in such a way as to afford effective protection to the domestic production of goods of a different kind which are substitutable for the imported goods, which enter into direct competition with them and which do not bear, directly or indirectly, in the country of importation, fiscal charges of equivalent incidence.

7.2 A Protocol Member State shall notify the Economic Affairs Council of all fiscal charges applied by it where, although the rates of charge, or the conditions governing the imposition of collection of the charge, are not identical in relation to the imported goods, and to the like domestic goods, the Protocol Member State applying the charge considers that the charge is, or has been, consistent with sub-paragraph (a) of paragraph 1 of this Article. In applying this paragraph, each Protocol Member State shall accord the same treatment to imports consigned from all other Protocol Member States.

For the purposes of this Article—

“export drawback” means any arrangement for the refund or remission, wholly or in part, of import duties applicable to imported materials:

They shall also be admitted free of customs duties and charges with equivalent effect, except that any allowance by way of drawback relief from duty or otherwise, given by reason of the exportation from the first Protocol Member State, may be recovered.

9.3 If any industry in any Protocol Member State is suffering or is threatened with material injury as the result of the importation of dumped or subsidised products into another Protocol Member State, the latter Protocol Member State shall, at the request of the former Protocol Member State, examine the possibility of taking, consistent with any international obligations to which it is subject, action to remedy the injury or
